Amy Prueger focuses on appellate, commercial, and regulatory litigation. Having clerked for the Texas Supreme Court and worked in large specialty-practice law firms, she has vast experience representing clients in business disputes and protecting them in the event of appeal. She is also experienced in arguing cases in state and federal courts of appeals, as well as the Texas Supreme Court, and has handled complex arbitrations from the initial filing of the complaint through post-hearing matters.

Professional Experience

- Successfully challenged, in the Texas Supreme Court, subject matter jurisdiction under the Texas Tort Claims Act
- Successfully defended on appeal a judgment in favor of a real estate development client on a long-term ground lease
- Successfully opposed, on appeal, an effort to take a client representative's deposition pre-suit
- Successfully defended, on appeal, a judgment favoring a client's employee's eligibility for a "keyman" life insurance policy
- Successfully defended, on appeal, a judgment returning title to a number of properties that had been fraudulently transferred
- Researched and prepared briefs for numerous matters pending in various courts of appeals and the Texas Supreme Court concerning business and healthcare litigation
- Researched and prepared numerous trial documents, including jury charges, findings of fact and conclusions of law, complex motions for summary judgment, choice of law motions, and memoranda on evidentiary and procedural matters
- Represented a landowner in a suit for damages alleging contamination of landowner's freshwater aquifer by oil and gas operations
- Defended a large dairy operation against allegations of the violation of environmental standards in an administrative proceeding before the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality

- Defended contractor in arbitration matters related to two multimillion-dollar construction projects
- Defended actuarial and consulting firm in complex business litigation involving multiple federal district courts and bankruptcy courts
